A bed grab rail is designed to give assistance and support:

- When raising yourself from a lying to sitting position and as you stand from the bed.
- Whilst you are stood beside the bed, for example whilst getting dressed.
- As you change your position in bed.
- As you sit and lift your legs up onto the bed.

The Liftwell Bed Leaver[®] bed grab rail is probably the most well recognised bed grab rail on the market, used widely by health professionals across the NHS and Social Services. The baseboard is made from high grade ply, which will not crack or split, and the beech hardwood end block, which is visible on the outside edge of the bed when fitted, provides an attractive finish.

Specially designed to fit those beds where the mattress sits within a side frame, such as pine slatted beds.

Easy to assemble and dismantle, with no need for tools.

Can easily be transported or stored when not in use.

Choice of 2 colours for both Standard and Heavy Duty sizes – classic White, or new Silver-Grey.

Easyrail[®] Bed Grab Rail, Twin-Handled

If two occupants need assistance, or a single occupant would benefit from the use of a bed grab rail handle on both sides of the bed, the Easyrail[®] twin-handled is also available.
