Early Years Provider update

Provider Update 68 - 21 March 2025

Dear provider,

How is it mid-March already? It feels as though the new academic year was only 5 minutes ago, not the 6 months it has really been. Children's development rapidly progresses over a 6-month period, and it is easy to forget how far they have come from their first day. Our babies are now walking and saying words, and our pre-schoolers are getting ready to fly the nest to go to big school. With only a few more months of the academic year left, there will be even more milestones met, tears and noses wiped, and belly laughs had (and that's just the adults 😊).

Have a good weekend... when it comes.

DfE Childminder Roadshow

Join DfE's Early Years Team for an online roadshow event for Childminders working in the early education and childcare sector on Wednesday 26 March at 18:30 - 20:00.

This event is a great opportunity to help shape this government's plan for change and hear about the strategy and activity underway to meet the pillar in its Opportunity Mission to give children the Best Start in Life. You will have a chance to engage with DfE colleagues on the work they are doing to meet the expanded childcare entitlements from September 2025 and share your ideas, concerns, and challenges.

The event will include an overview and update from the Department for Education and give those joining the opportunity to share experiences and views in virtual roundtable discussions. Register for the event here.

BBC Tiny Happy People are collaborating with Sherbet Research. The aim of this survey is to gather information on whether you are using BBC

Tiny Happy People resources with families, which resources you are using, when, and how. They would also like to hear whether there are any barriers and your suggestions for improvement.

Please complete their quick survey (under 10 minutes).

All responses are anonymous and will be combined with the views of Early Years Professionals across the UK. Share your views here.

GETTING IT RIGHT IN THE BABY ROOM – free conference

The Nuffield Foundation project ‘Achieving high-quality provision in the baby room of English nurseries’ aims to bring together evidence on what high quality provision looks like for babies (i.e., children aged 0-2 years old) in nurseries in England. You can learn more about the project here As part of this research project, they are putting on 6 free conferences across the country for baby room educators working in group-based provision.

There will be inspiring speakers, including our Network leads Cassie Holland and Simone Barnes, as well as many others.

Book Corner

Anyone who has had a bespoke baby room CPD session will have heard us talk about 'slow pedagogy' Alison Clarke encapsulates this within her book 'slow knowledge and the unhurried child'.

A snapshot of this Froebelian approach can be seen in practice by accessing this link Froebel Trust | Slow pedagogy.
