The Virtual School Training - Spring Term

From Excluded to Included – strategies to support pupils at risk of exclusion
How do we support the pupils at risk of exclusion or repeated exclusions to, not only remain in school, but feel engaged, understood and valued while at the same time supporting other pupils and staff?
Understanding the motivation behind pupils' behaviour and building positive relationships is key to supporting integration and attendance.
This webinar will explore the ways in which schools can reduce the number of exclusions through developing their understanding of the factors that affect behaviour, the importance of relationships and how to use policies and systems effectively.
We will also look at practical ideas and advice for school staff to help pupils at risk of exclusion to remain in school and become valued members of the school to help reduce exclusions.
Webinar 09/02/2023 3.30- 5pm -> Hattie Brandreth and Ruth Hammond

Raising Attainment through Relational Practices
As educators we often focus on key performance indicators or performance tables and put in place policies and practices that offer stronger academic support to raise attainment.
In this webinar you will gain a greater understanding of how good and secure relationships within the classroom will lead to better individual (and therefore collective) attainment in the school. Join us in this webinar to learn more about the research which support relational approaches as well as practical advice to use day to day.
In this session you will:

- explore and understand the barriers to academic attainment
- recognise the role and importance of 'softer skills' to achieve better results
- gain a greater understanding of how relationships positively impact pupil success
- develop a self reflective practice for improved relationships

Webinar 02/03/2023 -3.30-5pm -> Rhian Williams

Please contact courtney.hopson@gloucestershire.gov.uk to book onto the session. Training can be done around one screen if desired but we will still require all contact numbers and email addresses for staff attending.There will be a deadline of booking three weeks prior to the webinar and no late entries will be accepted.
Non-attendance will incur a cost for £60 per person or less than 48 hours' notice given.

The Virtual School

ACEducation